

2

Italy's Tankoa Yachts is debuting the first example of its new S501 model (tankoa.it) this month at the MYBA Charter Show in Barcelona. Equipped with foldout terraces that extend over the ocean, open-air lounges, and an alfresco dining deck, the 164-foot boat is built for sun worshippers—who will soon have the chance to charter it in the Western Mediterranean and Balearic Islands.

—REBEKAH BELL

3

Picasso collectors will want to make room in their kitchens. A selection of the artist's colorful clay plates, vases, and pitchers will hit the auction block on April 10 at Sotheby's London's Important Ceramics by Pablo Picasso sale (sothebys.com). Among the highlights will be Taureau (shown), a playful pitcher depicting the artist's oft-painted bull. It's expected to fetch upwards of $70,000. —JACKIE CARADONIO

4

Roaring onto roads this spring, the Lamborghini Aventador S (lamborghini.com, $417,650) is an aggressive evolution of the Aventador LP700-4. In addition to an easier-to-remember name, the new model features accentuated aerodynamics, honed-in handling, and an enhanced 740 hp engine. —VIJU MATHEW

