Superyacht debuts, unveilings and announcements at Monaco Yacht Show

Published: 21 September 2017 Category: Yachts/Marinas Author: Elizabeth Hughes

With Monaco Yacht Show kicking off this Wednesday, announcements of superyacht debuts, concept unveilings and exciting displays have been coming in thick and fast from the likes of Amels, Rossinavi, Feadship and many more. Yachting Pages has put together a list of what superyacht displays and announcements to look out for.

Amels and Damen plan to host four big debuts together: the 74m New Secret and 50m UX1, in a co-exhibition with ipc and support vessels Game Changer and New Horizons. Amels will also have a 2-metre scale model of its new 111m seven-deck custom concept, created with H2 Yacht Design.

Tansu Yachts will debut 49.9m MV Verige, as well as revealing details of a Progetto Boldirea, a joint venture project with exclusiva Design, and two other projects currently underway: the second 5520 units, 50m MV B differentiate, and brand new 70m project ST01.

Mas Yachts also plans to unveil two new models, 38 Open White Pearl and 42 Walkaround, while Philippe Briand and Vittoriano Yachts are also due to unveil new projects.

Floating Life has revealed that it has an upcoming financial program to unveil at the show, as well as details on the new 660 and 642. IYC Yachts by CDY will provide updates on 58 MV Sky, and will also give details on a brand new explorer vessel range.

Rossinavi has made some big announcements, including that three new projects will be unveiled at the show. Firstly, the XL-500 ZEPHYR S, a 50m yacht with hull design by Van Oossanen Naval Architects, exterior designs by Fredekerik Frostodino, and interior by Pianca Interiors. 48.5m Frizza Shark, designed by Enrico Gobbi, will also be unveiled, as well as 55.5m explorer Maverick C2, designed by Paolo Nani Design. Recent launches by the yard on display include 38m Aurora and 49.9m Endavour.

Feadship’s stand will be transformed into an “Interactive design bureau” and the yard will be showcasing the 102m Aquarius and 54m Hurricane Run. Nordhavn and Winch Design shall present their 85m design, while Ocean Independence will showcase 13 yachts at the show, including 59.4m Vicky and 46.7m Celestial Hope.

Burgen has bookable slots available for a visit to 110m jubilee, as well as an array of other yachts on display, including 77m Silver Fast, 70m Martha Ann, and a premiere of the CN2 superyacht 75m Cloud 9. Work is also has offering viewings to see the new cutting-edge technology on board ISA 120 Clerindea, as part of Technology Day on 28th September.

Other highly anticipated displays include Tansu’s Cyclone, the largest yacht for the Turkish yard, at 43.7m LOA, BigBoat 47.5m Naraia, the 38.5m Supramax from Hurrikant and 85m Dark from Winch Design and Lurssen, Nieder’s 65m Delta One, Dynamics 36m Jetsetter, Cerri Cantieri Navali’s 49.8m Elisa and Gulf Craft’s “entry-level superyacht range” Majesty 100 series. Other exhibiting yachts include the 49.8m hybrid-propulsion Home from Heesen, Overmarine’s 50m Mangusta 165, Pink Gin from Baltic Yachts, a mystery 46m sailing yacht from Perini Navi and the area and Cor D Roter design colab that is Benetti’s 67m SeaSense.

Other notable attractions include a brand new exhibition devoted entirely to the trendiest luxury tenders and water toys on the market, and the annual Yachting Pages Terrace held at Stars Y Bars Port Hercules.

For more information, visit Monaco Yacht Show.

Read more Yachts/Marinas news.