

Tankoa’s Latest megayacht project (50m) revealed

The striking exterior of the Tankoa S501 yacht was designed by Francesco Paszkowski. As soon as you enter, the Margherita Casprini’s vision instantly comes to life

The first Tankoa megayacht is being prepared for her launch after being sold in February 2015.

Although the project has not been completed, new renderings show what life will be like on board one of the most exciting superyachts to be launched in 2017.

Casprini worked with a discerning client to create an ambience befitting the megayacht. Her builders say she will be the most stunning 50-metre yacht of less than 500GRT ever made.

The high level of detail inside as well as outside creates a feeling of being on board a much bigger vessel, which offers all of the luxurious amenities you could expect.

The interior renderings reveal a world of wood, onyx, brass and rich materials skillfully used to create an elegant home on the water, which is ideal for longer crossings.

Floor-to-ceiling windows ensure that there is plenty of light in the main saloon. The cut down bulwarks allow unimpeded views and create an appealing atmosphere that complements the well-designed layout.

The Tankoa S501 superyacht can accommodate guests in the main deck owner’s suite with 2 lateral foldout terraces, 2 VIP suites and 2 guest cabins on the lower deck.

A huge aft deck and fly bridge offer pleasing outdoor living and the main salon has a 3-metre foldout terrace, which takes guests closer to the ocean in comfort. This exciting megayacht is getting ready for her launch in April 2017.
